

▽ Tabela 2

Izvirnik	Utemeljivje privilegiranega položaja matematike v izobraževalnem sistemu, ko se je trdno zasidrala med obvezne predmete celo na vseh zunanjih evalvacijah, ki odločajo o prihodnosti učencev, segajo od možganske telovadbe do univerzalnega jezika. Ni dvoma, da matematično naprežanje utrjuje možganske gube, dasiravno pri tem ni edinstveno.
Google Translate	The justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the education system, when it was firmly anchored among the compulsory subjects even in all external evaluations that decide the future of students, range from brain exercise to a universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical stress tightens the folds of the brain, but it is certainly not unique.
Bing Translator	The justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the education system, when it was firmly anchored among compulsory subjects, even at all external evaluations that decide on the future of pupils, range from brain exercise to universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical lye strengthens the brain folds, but it is not unique.
Yandex Translate	Justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the education system, when it has become firmly entrenched among compulsory subjects even in all external evaluations that decide the future of students, range from brain exercise to universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical strain strengthens the folds of the brain, although it is not unique in this regard.
DeepL	The justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the education system, when it is firmly entrenched as a compulsory subject even in all external evaluations that decide pupils' futures, range from brain gymnastics to universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical effort hardens the brain's wrinkles, but it is not unique in this respect.
PONS	The justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the education system, when it is firmly entrenched as a compulsory subject even in all external evaluations that decide pupils' futures, range from brain gymnastics to universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical effort strengthens the brain's wrinkles, but it is not unique in doing so.
Amebis	Arguments of privileged position of mathematics in educational system are reaching from brain exercise to universal language, when it anchored solidly among required courses even on all outside evaluations, that decide about future of pupils. There is no doubt, that mathematical exerting was strengthening brain folds, although it isn't unique at this.
ChatGPT	The justifications for the privileged position of mathematics in the educational system, where it is firmly established as a compulsory subject even in all external evaluations that determine pupils' futures, range from brain exercise to being a universal language. There is no doubt that mathematical effort strengthens the brain's wrinkles, but it is not unique in doing so.